

Please do not allow the current litigation to weaken Indiana's Telephone Privacy laws. It is an intrusion to be constantly called by banks and other solicitors. Since the law's enactment, it has been a really nice change to have no solicitations by commercial entities. Do not allow the banks to over-inflate their losses due to this law--I have never purchased any service or item from an unsolicited caller. If they start calling again I will not change this pattern.